

Exam concession: Prompter

The prompter's guide

- I am here to keep you focussed on the need to answer a question and then move on to answering the next question.
- I will use prompts to help you to keep time, focus on a question and being able to move onto the next question.
- I can't advise you which questions to do or which order to do them in.
- I cant help you to answer the questions

Student guide:

Sometimes it is difficult to keep focussed in exam environments. Your prompter is there to help you to keep focus on a question and to help you to move on to answering the next question.

The prompter might use phrases or a flash card to give you time checks. For example they might tell you that "there are 15 minutes left," They might state your name or get your attention to help you to refocus on an answer or move onto the next one if you loose focus.
